

LEAD BY EXAMPLE

THE ACADEMIC LANGUAGE OF LEADERSHIP

WELCOME TO THE ACADEMIC LANGUAGE OF LEADERSHIP

The cards in this program are designed to be used in leadership programs, academic classes, athletic teams, and student clubs. Basically, wherever student leaders are cultivated.

How it works:

Set aside 5 to 10 minutes for a Lead By Example discussion. Choose 1 to 3 cards per discussion. However, don't rush the discussion generated by individual cards. If you work with 3 cards in a lesson, that's good. If a single card generates rich discussion that lasts the full 10 minutes, that's fantastic! Allow sessions to develop organically.

STEP 1: Read the definition and allow students 60 seconds to silently process what you've read.

STEP 2: Ask the questions at the bottom of each card to stimulate group discussion.

TEACHER TIP: Prepare your own answers to each question. Share honestly and with emotion. Lead By Example.

LEAD BY EXAMPLE PRIORITY LEARNING OUTCOMES BASED ON CADA STUDENT LEADERSHIP STANDARDS

Lead By Example Academic Language Cards help student leaders work toward the following priority learning outcomes.

COMMUNICATION:

- Students focus on active listening with a desire to understand, empathize, and consider diverse viewpoints.
- Students reflect on successes and areas for growth with growth mindset and optimism.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT:

- Students identify emotions, thoughts, and values that impact behavior and self-efficacy.
- Students analyze strengths and areas of improvement for personal growth with healthy self-perception, self-competence, and growth mindset.

CIVIC AND SERVICE LEARNING:

- Students experience, reflect on, and recognize the value of serving others.
